'New' VC Peace Offer Appears Same Old Thing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Cong's "new" eight-point peace plan has a familiar and unacceptable look to Washington officials.

Under the enemy offer, presented in Paris Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Nguyen Thi Binh, Saigon's Thieu-Ky government would be replaced and the United States would have to promise to get its troops out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

In return, the Viet Cong would refrain from attacking the withdrawing allied troops and would discuss future peace arrangements including release of prisoners.

U.S. authorities here and in Paris have agreed to scan the Binh proposal carefully for any possible new openings. But in general, they said, it appears to be a retread of past offers.

Although a Viet Cong spokesman said the plan contains new points, the text received here showed Mrs. Binh herself described the material only as an elaboration of the Viet Cong's previous 10-point proposal.

Officials here noted the enemy already had proposed a time limit for U.S. withdrawals. Last December the enemy offered a six-month limit.

The 10-point plan and other North Vietnamese-Viet Cong proposals have provided for negotiating a prisoner release after the fighting ends. And ouster of the Thieu-Ky regime is standard fare in enemy demands.

U.S. officials said the American ambassador at the Paris peace talks, David K. E. Bruce, is willing to talk with Hanoi-Viet Cong envoys about any point they may put forward as part of unconditional discussions.

But the United States, they said, will not accept such demands as conditions for the beginning of serious peace negotiations.

Thus, the prospect for progress toward a negotiated end to the Vietnam war does not appear any brighter now than when the Paris talks began 2½ years ago.

Planes Pound Cambodia Reds

U.S. Newsmen Kept From Scene

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Flight after flight of warplanes today pounded the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops who have blocked the government's first offensive of the war some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh.

North Vietnamese troops attacked the Cambodian force along Highway 6 Thursday and killed four government soldiers.

Enemy soldiers were still operating to the rear of the government's forward line today. Three mortar rounds were reported fired on the Cambodians as more government reinforcements moved in.

The enemy was also reported reinforcing and resupplying.

For the first time, the Cambodian command ordered field commanders not to let foreign newsmen cover the action today. No reason was given, but one officer in the town of Skoun said the move might be aimed at preventing foreign journalists from seeing strikes by American jets. No confirmation was available.

Cambodian engineers repaired the last of three bridges destroyed by enemy guerrillas between Skoun and the government forces' forward lines. Field commanders put strong forces around the newly mended bridges to prevent more sabotage.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. bombers were continuing their raids along the highway between the Cambodian troops, strung out for several miles along the road some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh, and the enemy-surrounded city of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of the capital.

Ky May Reconsider U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration officials say Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky may now be reconsidering his visit to the United States to attend a "march for victory" rally here next month.

The opposition of key Republican and Democratic senators on both sides of the Vietnam war issue is expected to be a persuasive dissuader.

In addition Vietnamese friends of the vice president have been advising him the situation is not favorable at this time for a U.S. visit under the auspices of the Rev. Carl McIntyre, a fundamentalist radio preacher.

Adopting something of a "don't-call-us, we'll call you" attitude, officials were vague about the Ky visit. According to one knowledgeable source, the Ky visit has been left dangling.

"We still have had no formal application saying that he is coming and requesting appropriate consideration," explained one official.

State Department officials have taken pains neither to welcome the visit nor denounce it. Instead they are looking the other way, obviously hoping Ky would not make an appearance here that could sharpen opposition to the Vietnamization program.

McIntyre flew to Saigon last weekend to persuade Ky to stand up under what he called pressure from the White House and State Department to stay away from the Oct. 3 rally designed to encourage support for an all-out military effort in Vietnam.

Meanwhile, Senate critics, who include supporters of the Nixon policy, were explicit in condemning the trip.

In a strongly worded speech, Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said Thursday Ky's acceptance of McIntyre's invitation can only intensify U.S. dissent over the war.

Congressional Reform OKd By House, Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to modernize Congress and shed some light on its procedures has won overwhelming House approval but could still be lost in the Senate's adjournment rush.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who has set Oct. 15 as the hoped-for adjournment date, says he'll do his best to get it through, but is making no promises.

The Senate passed a congressional reform bill in 1967 only to have it die in the House.

Despite a lack of enthusiasm for the present bill by House leaders and committee chairman, it sailed through the House 326 to 19 Thursday after intermittent consideration for the last two months.

The bill was a modest proposal as it came to the floor but was transformed into a significant reform measure by amendments.

Key changes would end secret voting by members in committee and House sessions, make it easier to get a vote on controversial measures and strengthen the position of the minority.

In a bow to the electronic age, the House voted to permit television coverage of its committee sessions, cleared the way for use of computers for a wide variety of services and called for a study to see if voting procedures could be quickened by use of an electronic system.

The bill also reflects House concern with the current atmosphere of violence. It calls for installation of a bullet-proof glass screen between the visitors' galleries and the House chamber.

An attempt to delete this provision was soundly defeated as several older members recalled the 1954 incident in which Puerto Rican nationalists fired shots from the gallery, wounding several members.

Although the galleries would be sealed off, sound equipment would permit visitors to hear what was being said and a commentary explaining what was going on would be provided.

The bill is the first overhaul of House rules and procedures in 24 years and has been five years making its way through Congress.

A joint committee on reorganiation started work in 1965, producing the bill the Senate passed in 1967. Objections of House chairmen kept that bill from reaching the House floor.

Toledo Teachers Return As 9-Day Walkout Ends

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's teachers returned to their class rooms today, ending a nine-day strike.

The teachers returned on the recommendation of Dal Lawrence, president of the Toledo Federation of Teachers, following a court order Thursday invoking the state's Ferguson Act.

Lawrence said the federation was recommending the teachers return because of "the punitive aspects of the act. He said the Toledo Education Association supported the recommendation that teachers return.

Schools today reported nearly perfect attendance by teachers. Student attendance was reportedly normal for a rainy day.

Teacher representatives and school officials were scheduled to resume negotiations on a new contract at 11 a.m.

Today's decision to end the strike was in sharp contrast to a rally Thursday night at which some 2,000 shouting teachers gave a standing show of strength as urban leaders called on them to continue their strike in defiance of the court order.

The teachers cheered as Joseph Cascella, on of their negotiators, urged all strikers to be on the picket lines today.

Teachers who failed to report to work today raced dismissal under the Ferguson Act, which Common Pleas Judge George N. Kroff had ordered invoked.

Cascella told the teachers at the rally to "play it straight" and not call in sick or be otherwise intimidated by the court's act.

Under the Ferguson Act, which forbids strikes by public employes, teachers who continued to strike after the court order were to be dismissed.

Those rehired after the dispute is settled would have lost seniority, remained on probation for two years and be forced to forego promotions and pay raises for one year.

Bloody Jordan Fight Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fighting between Arab guerrillas and the Jordanian army spread into northern Jordan today after a night of bloody clashes in Amman, the capital city.

Guerrilla radio broadcasts said army tank units attacked Palestinian strongholds and that heavy fighting was going on in what the commandos had described earlier as "liberated areas."

The guerrilla broadcasts from Baghdad and Damascus said the tanks launched a three-pronged attack on Ramtha, Turra and El Kassarat, villages controlling the Amman-Damascus highway, the Palestinians' pipeline for supplies from Syria.

The government radio in Amman gave no indication of the military situation in its first broadcasts today. It said shortly before midnight the army was in control of Amman and military governor Habis Majali warned the guerrillas that his forces had been holding back their firepower to save lives but could increase their attacks tenfold if the commandos keep fighting.

Radio Damascus proclaimed that northern Jordan, from Amman to the Syrian border, was a "liberated area." It delivered an order from guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat naming himself the administrative authority and calling for the resumption of normal activities in the area.

Guerrilla spokesmen in Amman told newsmen that hundreds of civilians had been cut down in crossfires between guerrillas and army troops in Amman.

Radio Baghdad said one of the northern towns where heavy fighting raged was Irbid, Jordan's second largest city. "The main target is the refugee camp and neighboring residential districts," the broadcast reported.

Irbid, in the northwest corner of Jordan near the Israeli frontier, is where 12,000 Iraqi troops are based. Although the guerrillas have appealed for intervention by the Iraqis and Iraq's ruling Baath party had promised aid if needed, there was no indication the 12,000 men were involved in the fighting.

No figures were given in casualty estimates for any of the fighting. Reports of casualties generally used such terms as "hundreds" or 'scores."

The guerrilla command rejected an offer for safe conduct to the Jordanian-Israeli front if the commandos would lay down their arms and quit the capital and surrounding areas.

"Save your lives and the lives of civilians," said a communique broadcast by Majali. "We shall facilitate your transfer to the front." The guerrillas rejected the overture and ordered commandos to build more roadblocks and lay mines around Amman because the "plotters surely will bring in more troops."

Penn Central Wants To Duck State Taxes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — William H. Moore, the new president of the Penn Central Transportation Co., indicated Thursday that the railroad's hope of getting out of debt depends upon not paying taxes for several years.

Moore, who took over the presidency last month on a five-year contract calling for $165,000 a year, said at a news conference in Cleveland that "My goal is to have Penn Central running in the black in four or five years.'

Under questioning, he admitted that his goal depended on not paying taxes owed.

Penn Central owes $5.3 million in back taxes to 59 counties in the state. It pays $85 million a year in taxes throughout the nation. It has asked a U.S. District Court judge in Philadelphia to allow it to defer payment of taxes.

An assistant to Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown appeared at a hearing in Philadelphia Thursday to argue the state's case for collection of taxes.

Moore said by the term "black ink" he meant the railroad would show a profit in its profit and loss operating statement four to five years from now. He added that "black ink" did not take into consideration payment of back taxes.

He said trustees in bankruptcy running the firm can better use the tax money elsewhere.

Brown sent a letter Thursday to Gov. James A. Rhodes warning him that deferment of Penn Central taxes may have a grave

Black Panther Quarters Under 6-Hour Siege

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A policeman was shot to death at point-blank range in his patrol car early today and the slaying touched off a six-hour seige by police against snipers in a building housing a Black Panther headquarters.

One armed teen ager was critically wounded in the ensuing exchange of gunfire as he fled the building. Others who fled fired on police from nearby buildings.

One man was arrested and charged with the policeman's death.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier disturbance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead is Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro inner city area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officer's head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscannon.

In the ensuing gunfire, several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

They found the building empty.

Officers identified the wounded youth as Troy Montgomery, 16. They said he came out of the building with a rifle in his hand and a bandillo of ammunition over his shoulder.

Police were uncertain how many persons had been in the building and fled during the seige.

John Melvin McClellan was arrested nearby shortly afterwards and charged with Miscannon's murder.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects the Panthers took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said, "I have a little reason to believe that, but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Shortly before midnight Wednesday about 20 Negroes wearing Black Panther emblems, including women, turned up at police headquarters demanding the release of James Dotson.

Police said Dotson was jailed Wednesday night for resisting arrest when traffic warrants were served on him.

Police started to arrest a woman in the group for using abusive language when a fistfight broke out. Four adults and two juveniles were arrested in the scuffle and the others fled.

Police reported the Panthers had threatened to bomb the police station earlier in the day unless Dotson was released.

Chief Bosch, however, says he does not believe the Dotson incident prompted Miscannon's shooting.

Whoever the snipers are, he said, "just took advantage of a situation."

U. S. Planning No Military Excursions In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid repeated high-level statements of concern for the safety of Americans in Jordan, officials continue to say there are no plans now for U.S. military intervention in the Mideast.

The State Department expressed deep concern for Americans and other hostages held in Jordan. But, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Thursday, "I will not speculate on what may or may not be required.

"There are no plans for United States military intervention, but I am not going to get into statements of total self-denial," McCloskey told a news conference. "Obviously we're facing a very serious situation."

President Nixon, speaking to newly naturalized U. S. citizens in Chicago, said all Americans "are entitled to the protection of the American government, and they will have it every place in the world."

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon wants it understood that "those who hold American citizens as hostages will be held responsible for their safety."

McCloskey said about 40 U.S. government employes are in Jordan, along with about 350 other Americans, including some who married Jordanian citizens.

Arab guerrillas still are holding 54 hostages, including some Americans, who were taken in a series of airline hijackings.

One unconfirmed report said the hostages are being held outside the area where heavy fighting between guerrillas and King Hussein's army broke out Thursday.

But McCloskey said the State Department has been given no information on the status of the hostages.

He said Hussein has not asked U.S. assistance in fighting the guerrillas but declined to speculate on the response to any future request.

Nixon To Promise Israelis Aid If They Resume Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reportedly was prepared today to promise Israeli Premier Golda Meir extensive new economic aid and continuing military assistance, while urging her to end promptly her boycott of Middle East peace talks.

The plain-spoken 72-year-old Israeli leader went into today's round of talks with Nixon and other high U.S. officials expected to emphasize her government's dissatisfaction over American failure to demand that Egypt roll back missile bases deployed near the Suez Canal in alleged violation of the military standstill agreement sponsored by the United States.

Against the background of new Middle East turmoil centered in Jordan, Mrs. Meir was scheduled to meet Secretary of State William P. Rogers at the State Department. That meeting was to be followed by a White House conference with President Nixon, who returned to Washington Thursday night following a two-day visit to Kansas and Chicago.

U.S. officials hoped Nixon's fresh assurance of support would be sufficient to offset Mrs. Meir's concern that Israel had been placed at a severe military disadvantage on the Suez front since the cease-fire went into effect Aug. 8. She has refused to let her representatives engage in preliminary peace exchanges with Arab envoys at the United Nations because of the missile issue.

The United States has backed Israel's charge that Egypt has violated the military-standstill accord which is part of the cease-fire agreement. Washington has called on Egypt and Russia, which supplies the antiaircraft missiles, to "rectify" the deployment.

But the Nixon administration has refused to say what "rectification" means, and officials here see no prospect that the new antiaircraft emplacements will be pulled back from the cease-fire zone.

Agnew Lunches With Brokers

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew made an unannounced trip from Washington Thursday to lunch with Wall Street executives at the Bankers Club.

There was no official report on what he told the bankers and brokers present, but one listener said later Agnew talked on "Vietnam, Cambodia, and young liberals and radicals."

A spokesman for the vice president described it as one of a series of informal discussions the administration has been carrying on with leading business and industrial figures.

High Court Eyes Flag Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is headed into an emotional controversy over the American flag

Two appeals from New York awaiting the justices' return next month provide pivotal tests of efforts to shield the flag from scorn or even use by radicals.

Historically, the flag has been an object of veneration for fervent patriots. But it's also been used as a political banner, as a call to arms, a symbol of injustice and as a target of mockery.

The question confronting the court is whether Americans can be sent to prison because of the way they use the flag.

In one case, the owner of a Madison Avenue art gallery, Stephen Radich, was convicted for exhibiting seven constructions by Marc Morrel, an artist and war protester who displayed the flag as a male sex organ. Radich was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

In the second case, four Long Island women and two organizations opposed to the Vietnam war have been threatened with prosecution by Nassau County District Atty. William Cahn for superimposing the traditional peace symbol upon a representation of the flag. Arrests for displaying the emblem are common in New York City.

Last year, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that the Constitution protects those who denounce the flag in words. The decision reversed the conviction of a Brooklyn bus driver who burned a flag in outrage after hearing James Meredith, a civil rights activist, had been ambushed and shot.

The court ducked, however, the issue whether people can be punished for burning or defacing the American flag.

Radich contends New York state's 1967 flag desecration law violates the First Amendment's free speech guarantee. He argues respect for the flag cannot be compelled in a free society.

The New York Court of Appeals disagreed in upholding his conviction on a 5-2 vote. The majority noted that "insults to a flag have been the cause of war," and said Radich cannot cast contempt upon the flag to express his views.

The Long Island war protesters are attacking another New York law, one that forbids placing any word, design or drawing upon the flag, whatever the purpose. This, they say, is an unconstitutional attempt to compel respect for the flag.

"In a free society no person should be compelled to make ritualistic obeisance to a trapping of the state, whether by being forced to salute it or by being forced to treat it as though it were the secular equivalent of a religious icon," their appeal says.

Last June, a federal court in New York City said the law could not be applied to the peace emblem because it was not a flag in a legal sense But the court said the law's prohibition against using the flag as a design did not violate the Constitution.

All the states and the federal government have laws that forbid the desecration of the flag. Their validity is at stake in the two appeals.

U.S. Housing Official Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top enforcement official in the government's fair housing program resigned today, accusing the Nixon administration of actively opposing efforts to eliminate discrimination in housing.

Robert J. Affeldt, director of conciliation for the Department of Housing and Urban Development's fair housing program, said he resigned because he was "very very frustrated" with the administration.

The administration, Affeldt said at a news conference, "is not only indifferent to fair housing but is actively opposing it by acts of commission and omission.

"As a result of this policy the federal government is encouraging and perpetuating racial discrimination in housing, employment and education," he said.

Affeldt, who described himself as a political independent but said he was recruited by the Nixon administration to the $24,000 a year job, is returning to his post as a professor of law at the University of Toledo, Ohio.

Black Panther Sentenced For Conspiracy In Murder

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Black Panther Lonnie McLucas was sentenced to 12-to-15 years in prison today for his conviction on a charge of conspiracy to committ murder in the saly - ing of a fellow Panther last year.

Judge Harold M. Mulvey, who presided at the lengthy trial of McLucas this summer, set bond for the North Carolina native at $35,000.

"I've thought a great deal about what I'm about to do,' Mulvey said before imposing the sentence. The maximum penalty on the charge is 15 years.

The Superior Court judge said that in setting the high bond he took into consideration the charge that McLucas violated parole by coming to New Haven from his home in North Carolina last year. McLucas had been placed on parole after serving a term for robbery in New York.

McLucas was convicted by a Superior Court jury Aug. 31. The jury acquitted the 24-year-old defendant of charges of binding with criminal intent, conspiracy to kidnap, and kidnaping resulting in death.

McLucas was the first of eight Panthers to go on trial in the slaying of Alex Rackley on May 21, 1969. Police charge that the Panthers suspected Rackley of being an informer, tortured him at the New Haven party headquarters, then drove him to a swamp in Middlefield—about 25 miles northeast of here—and shot him in the head and chest.

The Panthers have denied Rackley was a suspected informer, asserting in printed statements that he was "a member in good standing with the party," and that his torture and death were engineered by George Sams Jr., the Panther who admitted giving the orders at the scene of the killing and the only witness at the McLucas trial to link Panther Chairman Bobby Seale with the case.

McLucas admitted during the trial that he drove the car in which Rackley was taken to Middlefield, and that he fired a second shot into the victim's chest. But he said he didn't know Rackley was to be killed until Sams ordered Warren Kimbro, another Panther who accompanied them, to shoot him.

McLucas testified he fired a second shot into Rackley, on Sams' orders, because he was afraid Sams would kill him if he disobeyed. McLucas said that Rackley appeared to be dead when he pulled the trigger.

Effects Of Automobile Strike Snowball; Walkout In 4th Day

DETROIT (AP) — The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,998 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the strike, almost 16 per cent of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufacture parts vital to other automakers. However, since GM is its own parts plants' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production.

Clarence Lock, director of the Michigan Department of Revenue, said a lengthy strike could force the legislature to raise the state income tax rate. He said the strike represents a major loss of revenue to the state.

Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs said the strike could have drastic effects on the city's economy if it lasts more than 10 days. He pointed out that the city was suffering from high unemployment before the strike.

No new national-level talks in the strike were scheduled until Tuesday. Meanwhile, top union officials are on a national tour, meeting with representatives of the UAW's 155 local-level GM bargaining units to explain strike strategy and to encourage rank-and-file support.

Bargaining on thousands of local in-plant issues is continuing.

Maverick FCC Member Hits Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Communications Commissioner Nicholas Johnson says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's salvo against rock music and so-called drug glorification was aimed at the wrong target.

The maverick commissioner said the vice president might better direct his sights on "the corporate campaign contributors of both parties who finance their fat campaign donations with the profits they make from worthless or harmful drugs, and from cigarettes and alcohol that first addict and then kill hundreds of thousands of Americans a year."

Agnew said earlier this week during a political campaign speech at Las Vegas that songwriters today tend to glorify the drug culture.

Johnson, in a speech to the United States Information Agency Thursday, criticized Agnew for singling out songwriters and said:

"One cannot help but wonder how he overlooked Ford's urging 'blow your mind,' TWA's taking us 'up, up and away,' the honey company that suggests we "get high on honey,' the motor bike company that advertises 'a trip on this one is legal,' or the Washington, D.C. television station that promotes its programming as great TV 'turn-ons.'

Fleet Gets Transfusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved legislation which would give America's floundering merchant fleet an estimated $1 billion transfusion over the next decade.

The measure, passed 68-1 on a roll call vote Thursday, would authorize the construction of 300 ships in the next ten years. It also would give all shippers certain tax deferment privileges now enjoyed by only 13 federally subsidized shippers operating in foreign trade. The money saved would be used to build new ships.

GM Walkout Causes Layoffs At Greenfield

GREENFIELD — A substantial layoff of employes has been ordered at Greenfield Plastics Products Company as a direct result of the United Auto Workers' strike of General Motors.

The nationwide strike has forced the Greenfield company to reduce its hourly and salaried personnel to below the June 15 level.

The plant, which has a top employment of about 300 persons, began the layoffs Tuesday.

Bench and bucket seats for General Motors vehicles are made at the Greenfield plant. The company began an expansion of its facilities in June to meet the growing needs of the auto manufacturer.

Production of items for Ford and Chrysler corporations is continuing, according to a plant spokesman.

Additional cutbacks in employment could be ordered later, according to a plant spokesman, who said that with available information it is still impossible to determine personnel requirements.

The strike at GM was brought about by disagreements on a new contract with UAW employes. Contracts with Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., also have expired.

Nixon Says U.N. Must Shape Up

CHICAGO (AP) —A Republican congressman quotes President Nixon as saying the United Nations must show its usefulness or continue to lose the public esteem necessary for its support.

Rep. Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois said the President made his remark at a conference Thursday with leaders of Polish-American organizations.

A special White House commission reported recently that the United Nations had become little more than a debating society, but Nixon did not comment at that time.

Nixon said the organization should, besides playing a peace-keeping role, be a forum for solving such worldwide problems as air and water pollution, Derwinski reported.

If the United Nations could exercise influence on environmental pollution, some other problems might become more soluble, the President was said to have told the group.

Public opinion polls have shown that American confidence in the United Nations, now in its 25th year, is waning, Nixon is reported to have said.

Chavez Sets Boycott Of Lettuce

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — Farm albor leader Cesar Chavez is bringing his most potent weapon—a nationwide boycott —to bear on all U.S.-grown lettuce that doesn't carry his union's label.

He announced Thursday the boycott will focus on 64 major cities across the country and "it will be on until the last lettuce grower is signed."

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee leader used the same tactic in bringing the nation's largest table grape growers to the bargaining table early this summer after a bitter five-year dispute.

One Salinas area grower now carries FWOC's black Aztec eagle label—Inter Harvest Co., a subsidiary of the giant United Fruit Corp.

Chavez moved his UFWOC organizers into the valley less than a week after the rival Teamsters union announced it had signed most valley growers to contracts covering an estimated 13,000 field workers.

Judge Studies Dismissal Bid In My Lai Case

MT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has taken under advisement defense motions to dismiss charges of murder and indecent assault against Pvt. Gerald A. Smith, 22, of Chicago, one of the 10 soldiers charged in the alleged massacre at My Lai in South Vietnam.

Col. Richard L. Jones, presiding over Smith's pretrial hearing, said Thursday he felt dismissal on grounds of command influence or pretrial publicity would be "an extreme remedy."

The hearing was recessed until early October.

Smith's military attorneys, Capt. Robert K. Raulerson and Capt. Delmer C. Gowing, presented the motions for dismissal after showing more than seven hours of filmed television news casts concerning the alleged massacre.

Jones said there was no question that the My Lai case has "had more publicity than any case in the history of the world."

He said, however, that he cannot rule on the motion to dismiss charges until he can question prospective court-martial board members and gauge the impact of pretrial publicity upon them.

Much of the newsfilm shown had been presented as evidence earlier this year at a pretrial hearing for Lt. William L. Calley, 27, of Miami, Fla., another of the soldiers charged in the alleged massacre.

Calley's appeal for dismissal of charges, also based on the prejudicial publicity contention, was rejected.

The "command influence" motion refers to statements by President Nixon and high Army officials.

At Ft. Hood, Tex., a hearing was held Thursday on a similar motion on behalf of S. Sgt. David Mitchell,30, charged with assault with intent to murder at My Lai.

The military judge, Col. George R. Robinson, viewed 84 television network newscasts involving the alleged massacre.

Trouble-Makers May Be Candid Camera Subjects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police are considering sending plain clothesmen to Ohio State University football games this fall to take pictures of suspicious persons.

City police, Highway Patrol officials and university officers are to meet Monday to review the plan.

If approved, the plan would add the photographer-officers to the football security force.

The undercover shutterbugs would photograph trouble-makers during football games.

Police said they anticipate no trouble but just want to play it safe with the camera toting officers.

Ohio State opens its home season against Texas A&M Sept. 26.

Soviet Science Curbs Disclosed

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists are forced to take a back seat to Western researchers because of severe restrictions on freedom of scientific inquiry in the Soviet Union, according to a smuggled book written by a noted Russian scientist who was put in a mental hospital last spring because of his views.

The manuscript was published Thursday by Macmillan and Co. in Russian. By Dr. Zhores A. Medvedev, it is called "The Medvedev Papers: The Plight of Soviet Science" English versions will be published next year in Britain and the United States.

Medvedev, a 45-year-old geneticist, was detained in a mental hospital for three weeks last May because he challenged the government. He was released after protests from fellow Russian scientists, but at the moment he is said to be unemployed.

Newark Officers Are Suspended In Beating Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Newark Police announced today that two policemen has been suspended in connection with the alleged serious beating of a man at police headquarters last Sunday night.

Joseph Rine, 35, of Newark, is reported in critical condition in University Hospital in Columbus. He was reported to have been struck over the head with a blackjack during a scuffle with officers in the station.

Sgt Sam Shephard and Patrolman Robert Dssylva were suspended Thursday pending a hearing before the city safety director.

It was reported that Rine had been arrested earlier and taken to police headquarters for questioning about identification on a driver's license.

Pop Singer Jimi Hendrix Is Dead

LONDON (AP) —Jimi Hendrix, the American pop singer, died today in London.

Hendrix was reported dead on arrival at St. Mary Abbots Hospital in the Kensington area of London this morning.

"We don't know where, how or why he died," a hospital spokesman said. "The matter has been referred to the coroner."

Hendrix had been staying at the Cumberland Hotel in west London.

Government Says Airlines Must Foil Skyjack Attempts

WASHINGTON (AP) — While security procedures attempt to weed out potential airplane hijackers before they get aboard, government and airlines officials are working on the tougher problem of foiling a hijacker and bringing him to trial.

Antihijacking legislation is piling up in Congress, and international extradition measures and airfield boycotts are being discussed at the United Nations and among intergovernmental organizations.

But one U.S. government official suggests the primary responsibility for solving the problem lies with the commercial airlines.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, told the International Aviation Club in Washington Thursday more is needed than armed guards aboard aircraft, and weapons-screening devices and hijacker behavioral profiles in terminals.

"Every effort should be made to control the hijack while it is in progress," he said. "This should be a plan of attack in addition to armed guards, and development of such a plan lies squarely in the hands of the individual managements of the carriers themselves."

He said airplane crews should be trained to cope with a hijacker and take advantage of his confusion in the jungle of a modern jet.

The international problem of bringing a hijacker home to trial was being discussed today at the International Civil Aviation Organization council meeting in Montreal.

President Nixon sent a team headed by Secretary of Transportation John Volpe to urge all countries to suspend airline services with nations which detain passengers, crews or aircraft, or fail to extradite or prosecute hijackers.

The U.N. General Assembly heard demands Thursday for international activity to stop aerial hijackings and kidnaping of diplomats.

Stock List Holds Own

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to hold its own today, with prices up modestly in moderate trading.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 2.19 at 759.86.

Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by less than 2 to 1. Analysts said profit taking was evident in the market's action Friday, but this was offset by some hope the prime rate would be cut soon.

One stimulus to the market was the report released today by the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank which said the growth of monetary aggregates had increased substantially since February. Monetary aggregates reflect credit conditions and Federal Reserve policy. The increase further proves credit conditions are easing, analysts observed.

Will Lift Martial Law

ATHENS (AP) — New liberal measures and the lifting of martial law are to be announced by the Greek military government within the next two weeks, the English-language Athens News reported today.

Quoting informed sources, the paper said the measures will include restoration of articles of the constitution still suspended by the 41-month-old regime.

The newspaper said the matter was discussed last week by U.S. Asst. Secretary of Defense G. Warren Nutter and Premier George Papadopoulos, but it gave no details.

Senate OKs Manpower Training Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed, 68 to 6, a $12 billion manpower training bill containing a broad public service jobs program strongly opposed by the Nixon administration.

The measure could make available 150,000 jobs in the current fiscal year, but there is considerable doubt the program ever will be enacted.

Senate passage sent the bill to the House which may not go along with the public service jobs feature.

But, even if the measure goes to President Nixon and is signed by him, the sums in it only are authorizations.

If the jobs were actually to be financed, the President would have to ask for appropriations and it is unlikely he would do so.

The federally-financed jobs provided by the bill would be in schools, hospitals, police and fire departments, recreation programs, conservation projects, and many other types of state and city programs.

Some Notes On The Current Economic State

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Notes on the current state of the economy specifically about business at the crossroads between recession and recovery, the seasonal nature of the stock market and the extent of unemployment:

—If you've wondered why businessmen always must peer into the future, you have a good example at hand, because the profits go to the ones who accurately forecast the next—and maybe imminent—economic turn.

The specific questions now facing all types of businessmen is this: Should we stock up now on goods to sell in anticipation of buying strength in the next few months? Or should we wait until we're more certain?

The classic situation involving this decision occurred right after World War II. Some companies foresaw a return to the depressed conditions of the 1930s and so retrenched. Others foresaw the boom and had the goods to sell.

Businessmen currently appear to have decided on an upturn, because in July they added nearly $170 billion to their inventories, the biggest monthly gain of 1970.

But, there is no great amount of evidence that they expect the recovery to lead to a boom. More liked a mild advance.

—Will the stock market fall with the autmun leaves? It often has in the past. Although quite often also the market recovers before winter, the autumn slide is a confirmed cycle in the stock market.

Are such cycles mere statistical accidents? Hardly. They result either from mass anticipation of business changes that regularly take place or, more accurately, from how the public interprets these changes.

—The unemployment rate has now risen to 5.1 per cent of the civilian labor force and, it would appear, is headed higher.

Although it is no consolation at all to workers in areas where unemployment is much higher, such as in Seattle, Wash., and in the cores of many industrial cities, the figures may not be as bad as they appear.

Joblessness among married men, for example, is less than 3 per cent, although rising. And much of that plus-5 per cent rate is temporary, accounted for by seasonal workers and by others between jobs.

While it is likely that the basic unemployment rate will always be the chief criterion of the job market's health, another measure is quite often used by those who must analyze the situation more closely. This is the average duration of unemployment.

In 1969, the average length of unemployment was about 8 weeks, although it fell to about 7.5 weeks just one year ago. In the spring and early summer the duration grew, and reached more than 9 weeks in June.

However, this still leaves the average length less than in all but 11 or 12 of the past 16 years. In 1961, the average length of unemployment topped 16 weeks.

Calling Officer Pig Can Bring Arrests

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Anyone who calls a Toledo police man a "pig" or makes "oink, oink" sounds at him is subject to arrest under a new city ordinance prohibiting verbal abuse of lawmen.

City Safety Director Clifford Quinn ordered officers in a special message Thursday to make arrests for violations. Conviction can bring a maximum sentence of 30 days in jail and a $50 fine.

Cloud Assails Gilligan's 'Lack Of Qualifications'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Roger Cloud has described his Democratic opponent for governor, John J. Gilligan, as a "perennial candidate" who has "no background for Ohio's toughest job."

Leveling his harshest blast of the campaign at Gilligan, Cloud told a partisan audience in Piqua Thursday night:

"My opponent has no experience in state government. He has no experience in management or administration.

"His background is that of a perennial candidate who has run in 11 elections in the last 10 years. His approach is based on irresponsible logic."

Cloud accused Gilligan of being soft on campus demonstrators, saying his statements about college disorders "show tolerance beyond reason."

Cloud and Gilligan were scheduled to make a joint appearance today before the staff of the Cincinnati Post and Times Star in Cincinnati.

Elsewhere in state politics Thursday, the two major candidates for the U. S. Senate, Democrat Howard Metzenbaum and Republican Robert Taft Jr., both discussed the campus disorders issue.

Metzenbaum, touring the northeastern corner of the state, called on college administrators to take firm action against "anarchists who threaten to hijack American higher education."

He said lines of communications should be established between administrators and students so they can work together to "separate violent revolutionaries from peaceful dissenters before trouble erupts."

Administrators should make plans to deal with lawlessness, he said, and if these plans fail "fulltime law enforcement agencies — especially trained units of the highway patrol—should be called."

Taft, speaking at a Republican rally in Bowling Green, called for early enactment of his cmapus unrest legilation introduced in Congress.

His bill would require states to set out procedures for state-supported colleges and universities to follow in the event of campus disruption. Institutions failing to adopt procedures would face a cut-off of federal funds.

Taft scored the Democratic majority in Congress for letting President Nixon's 10-bill crime package "stagnate," despite growing evidence that new anti-crime laws are needed.

John Wayne Has Great Time In Making Of TV Special

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The big, rangy superstar prowled impatiently about the Goldwyn studio stage, coffee cup in hand and a scowl on his face.

"This shot was supposed to be ready at 11:30," he growled, "but it sure don't look like it."

The complaint was strictly in the Rooster Cogburn style. For although he complained about the slow schedule—"They told me this'd take four days out of three weeks' time; now it looks more like three weeks out of four days' time"—he was really having a grand time.

Here, on the same stage where he had filmed "Stagecoach," "The Long Voyage Home," "Hondo" and "The High and the Mighty," John Wayne was filming his first television special.

It's called "Swing Out, Sweet Land," and it will appear on NBC Nov. 29 with an allstar cast.

"You're damn right," said Wayne. "For years I've been appearing on everybody else's television show. I figured it was time I got them to return the favor."

"And they all came through. Bob Hope—he does a monologue of entertaining the troops at Valley Forge that is hilarious. Dan Rowan and Dick Martin—they oughta be grateful, cause I was one of the first stars to do those gags on 'Laugh-In' and I paved the way for others.

"Glen Campbell—he's my kids' favorite. Red Skelton, Jack Benny, Raquel Welch, Lucille Ball—they're all returning the favor."

The man behind "Swing Out, Sweet Land" is producer Paul Keyes, in whom Wayne has complete confidence—"After all, he put Jack Paar on the map, set up Dean Martin on television, and was the important factor in the beginning of 'Laugh-In.'"

"Everybody thinks this is going to be a big flag-waving show because John Wayne is the star," said Keyes. "But people will find out that it's going to be fun. Wait till they see Phyllis Diller as the first female candidate for president. Or Lucille Ball as the Statue of Liberty. Or Rowan and Martin as the Wright Brothers. Or Dean Martin as Eli Whitney."

Wayne seemed pleased that the message will be sugar-coated, but the message will be there, nevertheless.

"I'm doing this show for my kids," he remarked. "Before I got too old, I wanted to do something on television that would give them an idea about how their country developed—even if it is played largely for laughs."

The result, he said, will be the most expensive show in television history—"it'll cost Budweiser about two millipn, before time charges. But hell, if I can give'em an audience of 50 million, that's not such a bad buy."

Ohio Soldier Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Pfc. Francis J. Trotta, son of Anthony L. Trotta of Cincinnati, Ohio, has been killed in action in Southeast Asia, the Defense Department reported Thursday.

The Leaning Tower of Pisa is believed to date from about the year 1174.

Antihijack Security Force Nabs Man In Grand Bahamas

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — A tough antihijack security web has snared its first gun-toter at the Freeport International Airport.

All air travelers leaving Freeport, a sun-splashed tourist city of casinos in the blue Gulf Stream off Florida, face searches of their baggage and often themselves before boarding flights.

British Overseas Airway Corp. initiated on Sept. 8 the searches now conducted on passengers of every airline. BOAC passengers also face frisking and search of their baggage at Miami.

The first pistol packer caught by the search program was a young American convicted Thursday of trying to board a Pan American jet the day before with a gun in his pocket.

Paul Stephan, 24, of Port Chester, N.Y., was sentenced to three months hard labor by Magistrate John Cronin, who said from the bench that carrying of weapons onto planes "will not be tolerated." Stephan told the court he had made no effort to hide the .25-caliber pistol and that it was not loaded.

Salathial Thompson, deputy commissioner of police in Freeport said Stephan's pistol was found by an airline examiner after he had cleared customs at the airport.

Two or more inspectors, supplied by the particpiating airlines, are stationed "at every gate in the airport," Thompson said. "Baggage or hand luggage, anything being carried out, is searched."

Inspectors open all bags, including women's handbags.

Male passengers, especially those wearing coats, are frisked by uniformed airlines workers.

Thompson said there had been no hijackings involving planes departing from Freeport, but added, "I don't think they should wait for one before they act."

President Shops As Traffic Stops

CHICAGO (AP) — Because of a traffic jam, President Nixon has acquired eight new neckties.

He jumped out of his car when his motorcade was stalled in the Loop Thursday and walked a block to the Marshall Field & Co. store.

There he picked out seven four-in-hand cravats and one bow tie with price tags totaling around $70.

It being presidential tradition that the chief executive carries no ready cash, an aide picked up the tab.

The first reform school in the United States was established in New York in 1824.

What Man Can Do

At about this time of year in 1957 the Soviet Union placed in orbit the first man-made satellite, Sputnik I. It was variously reported as being about the size of a grapefruit or a basketball, and weighed less than 200 pounds.

Only a dozen years later, the United States had mastered space operations to such an extent that it was able to send men to the surface of the moon and bring them safely back to the home planet. Now the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is talking seriously about orbiting a permanent facility — a space station capable of sustaining 10 or a dozen men for months at a time while they perform research of various kinds. The between date is sometime between 1976 and 1978. That, be it it noted, will be only two decades since the first tiny Russian satellite was so astonishingly flipped into orbit.

There are many noteworthy things about the proposed space station. One of the most intriguing is that it is expected to provide a "shirtsleeve" environment in which crew and scientists will be able to work without wearing bulky spacesuits br breathing equipment. Nor will researchers and others who work in the station, excepting the crew, have to meet strict requirements of health and training as today's astronauts do. It is thought that anyone in reasonable health, and without particular regard to age limits, will be able to participate.

This plan, we repeat, is expected to come to fruition only 20 years after the first successful orbital launching. Space development has dramatically shown us that there is virtually no limit to what men can do if they devote sufficient effort to a task. Now if only mankind could somehow organize its brainpower and marshal its rescurces for such a masterful attack on some of its common problems.

Hal's Back In The Mailbag

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you want to make mosquitoes keep their distance, eat a plate of snails with garlic butter. The mosquitoes don't mind the snails, but they can't stand garlic—particularly at close quarters.

It's a waste of time worrying that you may be hit by a "falling star." Astronomers have calculated that an object as big as the entire continent of North America is likely to be struck by a meteorite 100-inches or more wide only about once in 50,000 years.

We might all live longer if we spent more money trying to find out how to. Specialists estimate that a major biomedical research program could increase healthful life expectancy by five to 15 years, but the amount now spent per person on such research is about eight cents a year—the price of a single candy bar.

What should a mother do if her child tries to get its way by holding its breath until it turns blue, faints or even goes into convulsions: The best attitude she can take is one of "purposeful neglect," says a Johns Hopkins Hospital specialist. Such tantrums by the child don't do physical harm to it, he says, and can best be disregarded unless the family wants to submit to being dominated by these tactics.

Delivery problems: Biting dogs are a bane of U.S. mailmen, but those of other countries have worse perils, notes the National Geographic Society. Camels chew on Egyptian mailmen, jaguars ambush Brazilian mailmen, one in the Tongan Islands was browsed on by a shark, and a few years ago Afghanistan suspended rural deliveries because too many mailmen were dined on by leopards.

Cutting it short: one reason people put on weight may be because their intestines are too long. Three Danish surgeons reported to an international medical convention that they had caused 10 excessively fat women to lose up to 300 pounds—and keep it off—by operations which removed a section of their intestines, thus lessening the amount of food they absorbed.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "I never knew a man who lived on hope but what spent his old age at somebody else's expense."

Violins Made As Hobby By Illinois Man, 82

LIMA, Ill. (AP) — Earl Harness, 82, has farmed, excelled as a steam engineer and worked in a paper mill, and as a hobby, made violins.

Harness says he has made "15 or 20 — maybe more" violins in his day.

He used Alaskan Spruce for the tops and hard maple imported from Germany or Belgium for the backs, ribs and necks and ebony for the fingerboards, keys and tail pieces.

He found that native maple can be used for the backs of violins and he thinks that it may provide a better tone than the imported maple.

His tools are chisels and scrapers and knives. He said it took him quite a while to turn out a finished instrument.

The North Cascades, site of the newly-created national park, have been nicknamed the "American Alps." They are in the wilderness in northwestern Washington State.

Guide To Good Health

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

AFTER the slightest exertion, I find that I become fatigued and can barely do my household chores. With all the advertisements about having insufficient iron in our blood, I am beginning to feel that this is purely a woman's disease. How can my husband and I be tested for anemia, since he also gets tired without doing anything? I have seen him get exhausted drinking beer, eating peanuts, and watching a baseball game.

Mrs. H. T., Kansas

Dear Mrs. T.: I know that I am going to become overwhelmingly involved with the Women's Liberation Movement when I state unequivocally that the menstruation process cannot be shared by men. This gives women an added reason for fatigue and may contribute to the exhaustion that comes with household activities.

Neither men nor women need to be burdened by the frightening techniques in advertising that suggests that they have blood that is deficient in iron or that they are anemic. A sensible diet almost always contains all the minerals, the vitamins and chemicals for normal, healthy body functioning.

Expensive food supplements, tonics, and magical wonder potions do little or nothing for the health but do cause a distinct "anemia" of the pocket-book.

A test for anemia is a simple one and can immediately tell you if there is any need for these expensive well sold products. If iron is needed as an addition to a diet, it can be purchased for practically nothing in a simple form. That which is more important is that you must rule out, with your doctor's help, all other reasons for excessive fatigue. Now as far as your husband is concerned you must really understand that a "tied" baseball game in the ninth inning can be very emotionally distressing and fatiguing. Be patient with him and coodle him until the football season starts.

I have two scars on my face that followed an accident when I was a child. Now, at the age of 18, I would like to have them removed but I am afraid of surgery. Is there any way that this could be done without an operation?

Miss J. B., Connecticut

Dear Miss B.: Small, superficial scars of the skin of the face can be removed by a relatively new process known as dermabrasion or skin planing. A delicate wire brush can, under local anesthesia, take off the outer layers of the skin. The process is a painless one. However, before undertaking this or any other method of scar removal, consultation with your doctor or skin specialist is essential to see if you are an ideal candidate for this method. Deeper scars may need plastic surgery. The results are excellent and gratifying.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	Dble	2 ♠
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
Pass	4 ♠	Dble

Opening lead—king of diamonds.

This hand occurred in a pair championship. It illustrates a principle of play that is important to both the duplicate and rubber bridge player.

South bid four spades, not because he expected to make it but because he thought it highly likely that East would make four hearts. He was willing to go down two—500 points— to stop the opponents from scoring 620.

West cashed the A-K-Q of diamonds and shifted to a low heart. East won and returned a heart, West taking his jack and continuing with the king.

Declared ruffed, cashed the spade ace, led a club to the ace and returned a spade, East following low. The problem now was whether to finesse or play the king.

This was an important decision, for if South guessed wrong he would go down 800 instead of 500 and the attempted sacrifice would become a catastrophe.

Ordinarily, declarer plays for the drop with nine of a suit. However, the mathematical advantage is very slight and declarer should feel free to finesse whenever that appears to be the better play.

In this case, South finessed—and for a very excellent reason. He realized that even if he played the king and nailed the queen he would score a Pyrrhic victory. He would go down only two—500 points—but he would be bound to get a bad result.

If West had the queen, it would mean that East-West could not have made four hearts (losing two spades and two clubs) and that the sacrifice was a dead losing proposition.

South was therefore forced to credit East with the Q-x-x of spades. Accordingly, he finessed—and he was suitably rewarded when the jack won and he was able to hold the loss to 500 points.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 18, the 261st day of 1970. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the Capitol building in Washington.

On this date:

In 1759, the French surrendered Quebec to the British.

In 1810, Chile declared independence from Spain.

In 1810, the U. S. Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, permitting slave-owners to reclaim slaves who had escaped into other states.

In 1931, Japan began military occupation of Manchuria.

In 1961, U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was killed in an airplane crash in Northern Rhodesia.

In 1967, the United States announced it would build an anti-missile network to counter any attack by Communist Chinese missiles.

Ten years ago: The United States for the first time was permitting the Panamanian flag to fly together with the American flag in the Panama Canal one.

Five years ago: It was announced that President Lyndon B. Johnson would meet in New York with Pope Paul VI when the pontiff was in the city to visit the United Nations.

One year ago: President Nixon addressed the U.N. General Assembly and urged the member nations to put diplomatic pressure on North Vietnam to begin serious peace negotiations.

Long before the discovery of penicillin, the Ainu of Japan salved wounds with a certain tree fungus that produced an effective antibiotic.

Dear Abby:

Tragedy Leaves Father Angry

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours have gone out of their heads over a personal tragedy. Their 18-year-old daughter left home to marry a serviceman she had known only two months. The police were called to avoid bloodshed when she left, and her father warned the girl and this serviceman never to set foot on his property again.

Now the father falls asleep on the porch every night with a loaded shotgun in his hand. An accident could easily occur under these circumstances.

He will not listen to reason. He even got his son to round up a bunch of toughs to try to find the serviceman and beat him up.

Are there any counselors in this area who could talk some sense into this man in his angry state?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Counselors? A man who sits with a loaded gun and murder in his heart needs restraining first, not counseling. For his own good and the good of his neighbors, your friend should be reported to the legal authorities and the local mental health organization. He sounds sick and violent, a dangerous combination. And since you are his "friend," —you do it.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion, is it permissible for a woman to neck (or whatever you want to call it) with her ex-husband?

PAULINE

DEAR PAULINE: It is permissible for a woman to "neck" (if that's what you mean, that's what I'll call it) with her ex-husband, if she is single, and so is he.

DEAR ABBY: A few days ago I received in the mail the most unusual announcement I have ever heard of in all my born days. I would certainly like to know if you or any of your readers ever saw or heard anything to match it.

A couple of friends of mine, whom I seldom see, but exchange Christmas cards with, sent me an announcement. I will use fictitious names and give you an otherwise exact copy of it.

My problem is: Should I send them congratulations, separate gifts, sympathy cards, or what, exactly am I expected to do if anything? This thing sure floored me and I am not putting you on, Abby.

C. B. IN MURPHY, N.C.

DEAR C. B.:Send them both "get well" cards. Yes, I've heard of such announcements. It's a rather cutesy way some of the more sophisticated set use to let their friends know they are officially divorced, and therefore available, in the market or what-have-you. It also helps their friends keep Christmas card lists current.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST ME" IN FORT WORTH: Most women who marry men for their money have to divorce them before they can get their hands on any of it. (P.S. Lotsa luck. It's a rare woman who comes out winners when she's out to skin a man in Texas.)

Kent State Jury Continues To Hear Witness Parade

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Hearing witnesses at a 20-a-day clip, a special state grand jury continues its investigation today into four days of violence at Kent State University last May.

The jury heard a score of witnesses in the third day of testimony Thursday. With evidence being presented in a chronological pattern, the witnesses are believed to have told the grand jury about the burning May 2 of a campus ROTC building.

Among the witnesses appearing to testify were Kent Fire Chief Fred Miller and KSU Fire Inspector Leroy Peach.

One of the witnesses who entered the Portage County Courthouse building where the grand jury is meeting, carried a section of hose said to have been slashed by demonstrators while firemen were fighting the ROTC fire.

Firemen battling the ROTC fire on the second night of the Kent disturbances also were reported to have been stoned by demonstrators.

Witnesses, attorneys and court officials are under court orders not to discuss the grand jury investigation with newsmen.

Testimony to be presented to the grand jury later was taken Thursday in Miami, Fla., from Mary Vecchio, the 14-year-old runaway photographed as she knelt beside a slain student at Kent State.

Three members of the Ohio attorney-general's staff listened to the teen-ager as she responded to a subpoena issued by Portage County Common Pleas Judge Edwin W. Jones.

Miss Vecchio, who had run away from her suburban Miami home earlier in the year, was identified by her father as the girl in the photograph, located and returned home.

More than 260 witnesses have been subpoenaed for the grand jury probe. When the investigation is concluded, special state attorneys will bring to trial any persons indicted by the grand jury.

Fondness for the outdoors, has always been an American heritage. Camping, picnicking and vacationing grounds were more readily accessable when the automobile replaced the horse and buggy and made carrying tools and needed equipment easy and handy. The automobile also served as protective shelter and a place to sleep.

Today, the automobile has changed very little, in being a handy carry-all for camping, vacationing and picknicking equipment, but roughing it, entirely in the out of doors is no longer necessary.

You can now enjoy out door camping, picnicking and vacationing with all the conveniences and luxury of home living in a mobile home. A home which is relocatable and ideal for a summer cottage, which can be taken to the lakeside, or park resorts and carry all the equipment you need to enjoy outdoor life as well as comfortable shelter, sleeping and living quarters.

FIERY COAT — Linda Speelman is ready for a fire or any other happening in this beautiful champagne colored coat of simulated fur from Craig Brothers.

GOING TO GREAT LENGTHS — It's below the knee for this midi masterpiece from Hart, Schaffner & Marx, represented here by Nichols Men's Wear. Balancing the new length is the V-placement of the eight leather buttons (three to button) on a double-breasted closure culminating in an oversize, deeply-notched collar. The waist is subtly traced to accentuate further the new look. Pocket flaps in front and the center vent in back are deepened to maintain the fashion pace. The chevron-weave fabric is in several shades of caramel.

LET IT SNOW! — Ready for a good time despite any winter weather is this trio, dressed in coats from the Martha Washington Shop. Becky Mossbarger (left) wears a knee-length coat of fake fur. It ties with a leather cord belt. Teressa Persinger fights off the cold in her coat trimmed with a fling of Norwegian blue fox. The coat has a cheongsam neckline, vertical slit pockets and slight fitting at the waist. Mrs. Robert Willis wears a new midi-length coat with a belt in back. The coat, which comes in a variety of colors, has high pockets and a wide collar.

GAME TIME — Fall is a time of activity and football games. Ready for the cool evening games this year are Robert Lentz and Leslie Lanum, in clothes from the J. C. Penney Store. Leslie is wearing a CPO jacket over her Penn-Prest polyester and cotton blouse and slacks. Bob wears a wool jacket, that comes in school colors, and flared trousers.

Belts Boast Fall Variety

This season's belt bonanza boasts belts in all widths and styles. Grained and smooth, harness, antiqued, suede and brushed, embossed, waxy and patent leathers are represented.

Supple sashes of leather may be soft and dressy, or in a firmer texture with a handcrafted look of fringe, leather lacing or knotted ends.

BOY SCOUTS

The meeting of Boy Scout Troop 152 was brought to order by senior patrol leader Steve Speelman. Assistant scoutmaster Bob Bachelor led a discussion concerning a campout at Lake Vesuvius Oct. 2, 3 and 4 and suggested that the boys plan menus for that event. They will cook as a troop.

Of the 11 boys present, Rusty Cannon led the Pledge and Rory Smith was in charge of the closing by reading the Scout Laws.

ADVERTISING MAKES WHEELS GO 'ROUND

Every day, in great cities and small villages, housewives make out their daily shopping lists from ads in their home-town newspapers. No hoopla, no ballyhoo. The kids have gone to school, the father to work. The mother of the family---the one responsible for spending most of the family's money--sits down at her kitchen table and carefully decides where she can get the best buys. The information is all there, in the newspaper. The bargain prices, the descriptions, stay there while she makes up her mind, at leisure. Perhaps she will even fold the ad and put it in her purse, if there is any question in her mind about the price or the product.

Advertising is a service which people want. After the New York Newspaper strike of 1957, women interviewed in one study said they missed ads most of all features in the newspaper. Advertising makes the wheels go 'round in our economy. Advertising makes newspaper wheels go 'round too. It has been advertising, honest advertising furnishing a needed service to millions of consumers, that has strengthened the economic base of the American press.

Cincinnati Reds Clinch Division Title On LA Loss

Astros Bomb Dodgers While Leaders Idle

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, who clinched the West Division championship of the National League Thursday have been out of first place only one day since the season started April 6.

That one day was on April 11 when the San Francisco Giants beat the Reds and took over the first spot. The next day, the Reds won a doubleheader from the Giants and moved back in front to stay.

The Reds will set a major league record of being in first place for 178 playing days. That will break the old mark of 174 set by the then New York Giants in 1923 and the New York Yankees in 1927. The records were set, of course, in the days of a 154-game schedule while the teams now play 162.

The Reds were favored in a preseason Associated Press poll of baseball writers and broadcasters to win the West Division title but no one expected them to make such a runaway of it.

In the first place, they were starting with a rookie manager, George "Sparky" Anderson. He was a fellow with nothing more than an excellent managerial record in the lower minor leagues and often was referred to as "Sparky who?" by rabid Cincinnati fans.

The pitching, notably weak in the past several seasons, was decidedly suspect. A hard-hitting, if temperamental, left fielder had been traded away for a pitcher who hadn't done much in the last year or two. The shortstop spot still wasn't definitely filled.

What has happened?

Everything—and more—has jelled.

The pitching as handled by Anderson and pitching coach Larry Shepard provided the biggest surprise—and Anderson gives the credit to Shepard, a former Pittsburgh Pirate manager.

The trade which took Alex Johnson from the Reds brought Jim McGlothlin from the California Angels. Rookie Wayne Simpson was brought in from the Indianapolis farm club.

That left veterans Jim Maloney and Jim Merritt and young Gary Nolan, a sore-armed disappointment last year, to fill out the staff.

Maloney ripped an Achilles tendon on April 16 in only his second start and was lost until September.

But, here came Simpson, McGlothlin, Merritt and Nolan to turn in brilliant rotation performances and give the Reds a 10-game lead at the All-Star break.

Star reliever Clay Carroll was out for a week beginning Aug. 7.

But Tony Cloninger, a decided disappointment, suddenly moved into a starting spot and built up a winning record as a starter after having been clobbered as a reliever. In the early stages of September, the Reds hauled in Milt Wilcox from Indianapolis.

He won his first two starts, one of them a shutout over Los Angeles, after the Reds had dropped two of three to San Francisco.

Simpson Out With Injury

CINCINNATI (AP) — The sensational first year of rookie Wayne Simpson (14-3) came to an abrupt end Thursday when the Cincinnati Reds announced he would not pitch for the remainder of the year.

Simpson, plagued with shoulder trouble, failed to respond to treatment, according to Dr. George Ballou, team physician and Dr. Robert Kerlin, Orthoped surgeon.

RED HOT—The Cincinnati Reds' fine young catcher, John Bench, is heading toward the N.L. home run crown this year with 44 round-trippers as the season nears an end. Bench hit 26 in 1969 season.

Action Heavy In Weekend Ohio Grid War

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State waits until next week to open up its top-rated guns, but there's still plenty of fireworks including major college football's first doubleheader on the Ohio schedule Saturday.

The Buckeyes, already atop The Associated Press national rankings without playing a 1970 game, debut in Ohio Stadium next Saturday against Texas A&M.

The Riverfront Stadium twinbill in Cincinnati pits Miami against Xavier at 4:30 p.m. and Dayton against Cincinnati at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Miami holds a 16-10-8 edge on Xavier and Dayton leads Cincinnati 16-14-1 in the two Southwestern Ohio series.

An uneasiness hangs over the Kent State campus where the revitalized Golden Flashes, behind the bull-like rushes of Don Nottingham, take on Ohio University in a Mid-American Conference opener.

This will be the first major athletic event on the troubled campus since the May 4 disturbances that cost four Kent students their lives.

Toledo, a heavy favorite to win its second straight Mid-American crown, goes for a school record 13th straight triumph at Buffalo. The Rockets were impressive in a 35-2 romp over East Carolina last week.

Bowling Green, considered Toledo's strongest challenger in the league, begins its season at Utah State. The Falcons hope to avenge a penalty-filled 14-6 loss to Utah State in 1969.

The 14-member Ohio Conference launches another campaign with two Saturday night contests. Ohio Wesleyan plays at Heidelberg and Kenyon at Otterbein.

In other afternoon games, Rochester is at Mount Union; Findlay at Waynesburg, Pa.; Westminster, Pa., at Marietta, Adrian, Mich., at Defiance and Bluffton at Taylor, Ind.

Other night contests send West Liberty State, W. Va., to Muskingum, Butler to Akron, Ashland to Baldwin - Wallace and Tennessee Tech to Youngstown.

SCOL Teams Meet Non-League Foes

All six South Central Ohio League teams will be involved in football games tonight seeking to improve on 1969's disastrous non-league record of 3-26-1.

Already this year, the poor "outside showing" trend has continued with only Circleville winning its opener last week against Grove City. The other five teams lost, four of them by big margins.

Washington C. H. will travel to Chillicothe where the Cavaliers are expected to use an air attack in turning back the Blue Lions. Coach Maurice Pfeifer's charges have other ideas, however.

The Miami Trace Panthers, always a tough opponent for the Bishop Ready Knights, will play at Columbus West's field. Coach Roy Lucas says his offense has improved since last week's narrow loss and is girding for a victory.

Elsewhere around the South Central Ohio League, Greenfield McClain is bracing for an invasion from the Jackson Ironmen who humbled the Tigers, 50-0, last year; Circleville seeks its second straight while hosting county rival Teays Valley; Hillsboro travels to Blanchester; and the Wilmington Hurricane appears up against the odds again while traveling to Cincinnati Moeller.

CAGE STARS AT MURRAY — Assistant basketball coach Fred Overton (left) welcomes two outstanding team prospects to the campus during a reception at Murray State University, Murray, Ky., for new students. They are: Steve Bowers, a prep All-American guard from Washington Senior High School, Washington C.H., Ohio, and Mark House, a 6-6 all-state forward from Sterling, Ill. They are among 7,300 students expected to register this week at the university for the fall semester.

Orioles Clinch Division

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game.

At Cleveland, Sudden Sam McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league seasons, then took one quick sip of champagne to accomodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games, Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis pounded the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Houston slammed Los Angeles 10-5 and San Francsico nudged San Diego 4-3.

The Orioles were riding a bus from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning at New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.

Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

"The first half of the season is over," proclaimed Coach Billy Hunter. "The next half starts in October."

PP&K Clinic Slated At Eastside School

All the youngsters who have registered for the Washington C. H. Punt, Pass and Kick Competition to be held Oct. 4 will have a chance to improve their skills at a special practice session to be held Saturday, Sept. 26, at Eastside Elementary School.

"Our PP&K Clinic will begin at 10 a.m. and last three hours," said Carroll Halliday, local sponsoring Ford dealer. "The clinic's purpose is to familiarize the boys with competition procedure and to provide them help on punting, passing and kicking from the football coaches we'll have there."

Fred L. Domenico will be the clinic director. Throughout his many years of experience in athletics, Domenico has made football his specialty and has devoted much of his time to working with young, aspiring gridders.

Domenico noted that registration is still open to all boys 8-13 years of age. All that is required is that the boy come to Carroll Halliday, Inc., Columbus Ave., and sign up. Boys must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no entry fee or charge of any kind for registration which ends Sept. 26.

This year's competition, which includes six levels by age groups with trophies awarded in each age bracket, will be held Oct. 4 at Gardner Park Stadium. Winners will have a chance to go on to zone, district, area, division and national competition.

Sparky Anderson is worried. So are most Cincinnati Reds fans.

The Reds have been tumbling since the All-Star break and have managed only to hold their own with a .500 won-loss slate since then. The reasons are many, but mainly a team batting slump and a crippled pitching corps.

There is no doubt the Reds have clinched the National League West pennant; an early-season hot streak took care of that. But, there are the playoffs to think about.

The Reds will have to catch fire with a little momentum if they expect to represent the National League in the World Series.

Gordie Coleman, former Cincinnati first sacker, who is now a publicity man for the Reds' front office, talked freely about the team problems on a trip to Washington C. H. this week.

Gordie, first of all, said he has confidence in the Reds and that they will come out of their slump in plenty of time for the playoffs.

"I can recall earlier in the year when a team had us down 9-0 going into the last inning. Our Reds tied it up in the bottom of the ninth. We were explosive then and we'll be explosive again," he exuberated.

"We need some hitting desparately. But, even more, I'd like to see some of our injured pitchers regain the strength they had in the early going," Coleman said.

SAN DIEGO was another topic brought up, but not by Coleman. What does Preston Gomez do, or what does he know about Manager Sparky Anderson, to give the Padres such an edge over the Reds?

"Really, after a manager puts his best nine men on the field, what can he do to win a ball game? It's the players who win or lose the game, not really the manager," Coleman sparred.

"There's usually one team in every league which turns out to be the jinx-squad for any given team. In the National League, it just happens to be the Padres for Cincinnati,' he added. (We didn't have the heart to ask about the Expo-Reds series).

If any of you baseball fans have any questions of your own to ask the former Redleg first sacker, get them ready; he'll be returning to Washington C. H. soon for a speaking engagement before Rotary at Washington Country Club.

FOR YOU Bengal fans who felt at home in the friendly atmosphere of Nippert Stadium the past two seasons and just can't get used to the spacious confines of new Riverfront Stadium, why not play a few games to enhance your interest?

. . .Test your concentration in following the ball and not the birds flying between your precarious perch and play on the field below.

. . .Try to concentrate on the kickoff and not the flashing scoreboard blinking, "Ready . . .Set. . .Boom."

. Try to tune in the public address announcer over the roar of the Bengal Tiger emanating from the electronic giant board, which often is out of order when you want game information

. . .Try to determine without a program the sizes of the diminutive players on the bright Kelly-green artificial turf below.

. . .For a little more insight into the game, forget the quarterback and see how many times you can detect holding infractions in the line not called by officials.

. . .If you really want to enjoy the game, above all, don't think about having to cross the dinky footbridge, with 50,000-plus other fans after the game, to return to your car.

Horse Betting Nears Record

A new record in total wagers at Ohio race tracks appears to be in the making for the 1970 horse racing season, State Auditor Roger Cloud said today.

Cloud based his prediction on the $948,422.07 collected and credited to the Ohio Fairs Fund during the period ending Aug. 29. This collection represents the tax of one-half of one per cent on all wagers for the season to date.

With this tax rate, the collections mean a total handle of $189,681,414 for the year to date. This is a jump of $15,441,368 or 8.8 per cent, in the wagers which passed through the pari-mutuel machines.

For the entire 1969 racing season, total wagers were $226,288,742, but if the current level of wagering maintains for the balance of the year, the total handle may reach the $245 million mark, Cloud said.

The Ohio Fairs Fund was set up in 1957 to raise funds for stake races for standardbred colts and fillies owned or bred by Ohioans.

At the same time, Cloud said that through Aug. 29, total taxes collected from racing at all tracks amounted to $13,411,239.38, up $1,163,496.80 over this time last year.

This included $11,490,587.70 for the state's general revenue fund, $948,422.07 for the fairs fund, $944,045.60 for the thoroughbred fund, and $28,284.01 for the state racing fund, to be refunded to the various county and independent fairs which stage racing events.

The throughbred fund was established five years ago to provide purse money for Ohio bred and Ohio owned horses. This tax is currently one-half of one per cent.

Rich Bassett Takes Lead In Robinson Golf Tourney

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP)—When you have sponsors like Jackie Gleason and TV producer Jack Philbin there's not too much to worry about, says slender Rich Bassett, surprise first round leader of the $100,000 Robinson Golf Classic.

Bassett, 29, former Duke University player, is a non-winner since joining the PGA tourney trial in 1967. He collected only $4,879 last year and so far this season his earnings are $1,012.

Bassett birdied eight of the first 12 holes of the par 35-36—71 Crawford Country Club Thursday and finished with a sizzling 30-35--65.

"If I'm lucky enough to win the $20,000 first prize, I'll just about be even with my sponsors," he said. "I've been practicing hard, mainly on chipping and putting, and maybe it will start paying off."

Bassett, of Miami, Fla., said the Gleason-Philbin combine has been backing him on the tour for the last 3½ years. He met them while working at Shawnee Inn in Pennsylvania.

Only a stroke behind as the tourney enters the second round Friday is Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion and winner three weeks ago of golf's biggest jackpot — $60,000 in the Dow Jones Open. Nichols had seven one-putt greens in building a pair of 33's for 66.

Nearly one-third of the field of 147 broke par. But favorite Frank Beard and defending champion Bob Goalby had to settle for 73 and 72, respectively, as they finished in the rain.

Another favorite, young Larry Hinson, deuced the short last hole for a 67 to join 10 others in that bracket — veterans Charlie Sifford, George Archer and George Knudson among them.

Idle Mets Gain On Losing Pirates

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets have discovered the knack of gaining ground in the topsy, turvy National League East race. They simply don't play.

The Mets took the day off Thursday and consequently couldn't lose. The same couldn't be said of first place Pittsburgh and third place Chicago. The Pirates and Cubs foolishly showed up for their games and lost, allowing the Mets to gain ground on both of them.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 3-2, cutting the Pirates' lead to 1½ games over New York. The Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-2 and remained two games behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, San Francisco nipped San Diego 4-3 and Houston whipped Los Angeles 10-5, eliminating the Dodgers and clinching the West Division race for idle Cincinnati.

Traditionally, pennant races are described in terms of the "all-important loss column." If you're a traditionalist, the Pirates have a two-game edge there. But in this race, it seems that it's the all-important won column. The NL East contenders find it's easy to lose. But winning. Ah, winning has become quite a job for them.

Over the last nine games, for example, first place Pittsburgh is 4-5 — the same as second place New York. Chicago has charged into contention with a 5-4 mark over the same period.

The Pirates fell victim to a suicide squeeze bunt against the Phillies, spoiling the comeback of Dock Ellis, who made his first start in seven weeks.

Ellis was leading 2-1 when he was lifted after six innings of work. Don Money walked with one out against reliever John Lamb and then scooted home with the tying run on Ron Stone's triple.

Pinch hitter Terry Harmon followed with the squeeze bunt as Stone carried the winning run home.

The Pirates threatened in the eighth when Gene Clines opened with a double, his third hit of the game, and Jose Pagan followed with a single. But Clines was cut down at the plate on Scott Reid's throw to preserve the victory for the Phillies.

The Cubs, meanwhile, absorbed a 22-hit pounding at the hands of the Cardinals with Joe Torre, Lou Brock and Luis Melendez collecting four apiece.

Torre had a triple, two doubles and a single, completing the three-game series with 10 hits in 13 at bats.

Forecaster Sees Vikings Over Kansas City

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The memory of their Super Bowl humiliation and the bitter taste of Hank Stram's off-the-cuff comments in the film version of the game should fire the Minnesota Vikings to an early peak for Sunday's rematch with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Although Joe Kapp will be among the missing and Gary Cuozzo will be at the controls, the old Hand picker still sticks with the Vikings to win the opener.

A full schedule of 13 National Football League games stretches from tonight through Monday with only one interconference game—the Chiefs and Vikings. It looks like a rough year ahead but here goes with the first stabs:

Friday Night

Los Angeles 27, St. Louis 21—Roman Gabriel vs. young Jim Hart with that Ram rush putting the big heat on Hart. Les Josephson will miss opener, Willie Ellison taking his place. New look Cards have six changes. This is the year of the Rams.

Saturday Night

New York 24, Chicago 17—Giants won't be trying any onside kickoff in final minutes this time. Fran Tarkenton, with running help from Ron Johnson and Tucker Frederickson, should get enough points to standoff Gale Sayers' stunts. Jack Concannon starting pitcher for Bears.

Sunday

Minnesota 23, Kansas City 21—The big test for Gary Cuozzo as Joe Kapp's replacement and a chance for the Chiefs to make up for some of their Super Bowl embarrassments. Although both coaches talk about "just another game," this one will be for blood.

Oakland 28, Cincinnati 17—Capacity crowd at New Riverfront Stadium will whoop it up for Paul Brown's Bengals but they still have a quarterback problem. The Lamonica-Stabler combo too tough for Cincinnati defense.

Pittsburgh 21, Houston 20—Terry Bradshaw vs. Charley Johnson, the new vs. the old. Steeler pass defense has been amazing but Johnson will give it the big test with his bag of tricks. Three Rivers Stadium will be loaded, hoping to hail a new instant hero in Bradshaw to lead them to the promised land after so many failures.

Green Bay 14, Detroit 13—Tempted to call this one a tie. Packers seem to be on the way back as long as Bart Starr stays healthy but Lions are hungry and tough. Loss of Steve Owens tough break for Detroit but Mel Farr is in top shape with Altie Taylor to help. A typical Packer-Lion cruncher.

Baltimore 21, San Diego 14—Norm Bulaich gives Colts running partner for Tom Matte and takes some of the heat off John Unitas. John Hadl gets call over injured Marty Domres after splitting summer work. Lance Alworth limping so rookie Walker Gillette will take his place for Chargers.

Washington 27, San Francisco 24—An upset with 49ers favored at home. Redskins in high spirits after beating Colts in final exhibition game, determined to get away fast. Sonny Jurgensen must carry the load against John Brodie.

Atlanta 21, New Orleans 17—Norm Van Brocklin has Falcons revved up for quick getaway with Bob Berry throwing and Cannonball Butler and Harmon Wages to run the ball. Tommy Nobis back at middle linebacker. Saints usually strong ground game crippled by injuries to Andy Livingston.

Dallas 31, Philadelphia 10—Cowboys have chance to get well at expense of floundering Eagles, who still are experimenting with secondary. Don't be surprised if Roger Staubach gets the call over Craig Morton at quarterback in effort to break Dallas' five-game losing streak.

Miami 20, Boston 10—Dolphins make debut under ex-Baltimore Coach Don Shula with Paul Warfield, Willie Richardson and Marv Fleming as Bob Griese's targets. Jim Nance and Carl Garrett must do the job for the Pats, who went 0-4 in the exhibition season.

Denver 30, Buffalo 14—The Broncos have scoring potential with Floyd Little and Willis Crenshaw. Pete Liske to start at quarter against team that intercepted him five times last year. Bills expect to open with Dan Darragh while rookie Dennis Shaw learns the ropes.

Monday Night

Cleveland 24, New York Jets 20—Browns' passing attack will put pressure on revamped Jet secondary and Leroy Kelly will be running at Gerry Philbin's replacement at end. Joe Namath has new pet receiver in Rich Caster, who won't let Browns concentrate on George Sauer. It should be a thriller.

WCH Elks Add 6 New Members

Initiation of six candidates this week brought the membership of the Elks Lodge No. 129 here up to 292. Another class of at least six candidates will be initiated in about 30 days, Robert Holman, secretary, said.

The ceremony at which David Loudner, Robert Watson, Richard Shorey, Larry Bennett, John Campbell and Everett Rudolph were inducted was conducted by Eugene Ladrach, a past exalted ruler, and officers of the lodge. Darrell DeBolt, leading knight; Richard Alexander, loyal knight; Robert Grushon, esquire; Tom Vermillion, lecturing knight, and Holman.

The initiation was held following dinner in the Elks Home by members of the lodge and their wives.

Howard Mann, chairman, announced that 17 members have signed up to play in the state Elks golf tournament at the Elks Country Club in Chillicothe Saturday and Sunday.

Holman reported that officers of the lodge here are planning to attend the district meeting this weekend in Greenville.

On a half mile track a harness horse that races outside of another horse for the entire mile must travel 62,832 feet farther than does the inside horse.

Scott Beefs Up Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The improvement of fullback Robert "Bo" Scott has added to the optimism of the Cleveland Browns as they prepare for Monday night's American Football Conference debut against the New York Jets.

Scott, who played behind rookie Ron Johnson most of last season, teams up with LeRoy Kelly this fall and offensive coach Nick Skorich says, "They could be our best one-two running combination in years."

Clay's Way Cleared For Boxing License

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Cassius Clay's move as far as fighting in New York is concerned.

The New York State Athletic Commission said Thursday it would consider Clay's application for a license in the state whenever he applies.

Clay, also known as Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his heavyweight championship by the New York commisson and other boxing governing bodies when he was convicted June 20, 1967 of refusing to accept military service, and the New York commission turned down Clay's request for a license last Oct 14.

Lee (Silver) Akins, retiring this year as equipment manager after 50 years with the University of Colorado, was given a new automobile by members of the "C" Club.

Fifty eight harness drivers have now won more than 1,000 races during their careers.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — Flip Wilson, whose antics have brightened many other stars' shows, arrived on NBC Thursday night as star of his own show. The responsibility of being both host and resident comedian seemed to get in the way of the fun.

Instead of the usual opening dance number or standup monologue, Flip began with the announcement that since a production number would cost $104,000 he had decided to show us the money instead. He did, and a monologue would have gotten the series off to a better start.

David Frost was stiff, awkward and had a tendency to giggle nervously in Flip's sketches.

Wilson's comedy just was not working. None of the sketches was particularly witty or bright. The hour needs some emergency treatment.

"Nancy," later on NBC, probably should be called a woman's show and has a lot going for it including charm. Nancy, played by Renne Jarrett, is the daughter of the president of the United States. We meet her when she is visiting in Iowa, training a saddle horse and encountering a young veternarian, another newcomer, John Fink.

It's love at first sight, but he does not know who she is. When he finds out, girl loses boy. Then boy and girl are reunited—and there will be wedding bells a couple of episodes hence.

There was some amusing stuff about the ever-present Secret Service. Celeste Holm plays a breezy companion-chaperone and has most of the funny lines.

CBS's Thursday night movie started its new season with a made-for-TV thriller called "The Brotherhood of the Bell." It was a handsome, slick production and had Glenn Ford giving a believable performance as a man driven by guilt to expose a sinister conspiracy.

The story opened at an initiation ceremony with Ford assigned to force a close friend not to take an important position. The friend killed himself.

Then the story seemed padded as Ford sought to find someone who would believe the secret brotherhood existed, and it just drifted to an inconclusive end as he found the person but the society was never exposed. Leaving untied ends is unfair to detective story viewers.

Magicubes are something new on the camera scene. No batteries are necessary to fire them. Just so you will get all mixed up they look about like the conventional flashcubes. These new ones have a big X on the top face so you can spot them. Wasn't that nice of Sylvania?

You see, Sylvania came up with the idea that many flash pictures were failures because of weak batteries or dirty contacts. This new cube has the flash triggered mechanically rather than electrically. There is a tiny metal tube that extends from the interior of the bulb into the cube's plastic base. The tube holds the impact-sensitive primer. Adjacent to the tube is a hairpin-shaped spring which is just waiting to hit the primer.

As you snap the picture a little probe, extending through the top of the camera and the cube base, lifts the end of the hairpin spring off its latch, it zings over and hits the primer which goes off like a tiny firecracker inside the bulb and sets off the flash. How about that?

They cost about 15c a cube more than the conventional cubes and you'll have to buy a new camera to use them. Kodak has a new line of Instamatic-X cameras made to take the Magicubes. These are the cameras you'll be giving this Christmas. We can't see that the cameras are better than last year's, maybe not as good, but you see how it is, man, you gotta be up-to-date! Think new!

Well, if you're curious come in and we'll show you the new cubes, cameras, and point out the features. What do you want; good pictures or the new image?

Speed Limit Approved By Jeff Council

JEFFERSONVILLE — Two ordinances were adopted by the Village Council Thursday night during a relatively short session.

One establishes a speed limit of 35 miles per hour on Main Street (Ohio 41) and High Street (Rt. 734) and sets the penalty for violation at $50.

The action was taken after it was pointed out that traffic on the two streets has increased with an increase in building, particularly along the northern portion of Main Street through the recently annexed area and industrial development.

The other transfers $1,600 from the general fund to the street fund. It was pointed out that purchase of a $3,600 mower had depleted the street fund and that the $1,600 transfer was needed to provide for conditions which may arise in the future.

Mayor Donald M. Morrow was instructed to ask the State Highway Department to grade a portion of land along Rt. 734 which it had excavated in widening the curve near the swimming pool entrance. The excavation, it was noted, had left a water main so near the surface it was in danger of freezing during the winter.

The Board of Public Affairs, meeting with Council again to go over the proposed $120,000 water system improvement program, agreed the improvement is necessary but wants to make some revisions in the plans before giving an OK.

Members of the board, Gordon McCarty, Pete Parks and Lawrence Smith, and Mayor Morrow are to confer with Max Schirtzinger, the village's consulting engineer, in Chillicothe Wednesday evening to go over the plans again.

The $600,000 sewer system and treatment plant project came up again briefly. Mayor Morrow reported he had had no word from the federal Farmers Home Administration, which has had the village's application for a loan and grant under consideration for months. The mayor assured Council he will keep it and the public informed on developments.

Norton Plant Walkout Ends At Wilmington

WILMINGTON — Striking members of Local 768 of the United Auto Workers union have returned to their jobs following the successful negotiation of a contract with the Norton Foundry at Wilmington.

According to Norton's president, Robert Russell, the new company was not a successor to the old contract between management and workers of the Wilmington Casting Co. which Norton Foundry bought. Workers struck Monday, demanding that the old contract be accepted.

Norton ratified the existing contract with some reservations in a bargaining session Wednesday. The UAW was recognized as the official bargaining group for the employes and present wage scales will be maintained. One of the reservations involved the replacement of an insurance program with one that the Norton Co. felt was superior.

Oh Henry Bars Said Contaminated

CHICAGO (AP) — A candy company has halted all production in the wake of an announcement by the Food and Drug Administration that some Oh Henry Nut Rolls manufactured in June were possibly contaminated with potentially hazardous bacteria.

A spokesman for the manufacturer, Williamson Candy Division of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., said Thursday the decision was prompted by considerations of "public confidence."

The FDA announced earlier in Washington that more than a half million of the nut-roll bars manufactured June 18 and June 26 were possibly contaminated with the bacteria salmonella. Such bacteria may cause stomach upset and dysentery dangerous to infants and the elderly.

Williamson Candy agreed Aug. 27 to recall any remaining Oh Henry bars of the suspect lot from nationwide trade channels. It halted production and shipment of the nut rolls Sept. 4, pending review of quality control procedures, company spokesmen said.

Production and shipment were halted Thursday on three other candy brands—Choco-Nuts, Salted Nut Roll and Nut Clusters--produced in Williamson's Chicago plant. All four brands, including the nut rolls, bear the words "Oh Henry."

The company recalled the Choco-Nuts, Salted Nut Roll and Nut Clusters bars from the market although, spokesmen said, the FDA did not request this action.

Plant manager Herbert Anderson said that to his knowledge these brands were not contaminated.

Soil, Water Conservation Group Holds Annual Meet

Chairman James Waddle At The Podium

Richard M. Carson and Clyde R. Bower were re-elected to the Board of Supervisors of the Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District at the annual meeting Thursday night in the Mahan Building.

As a result of the election, the board personnel will remain the same for another year. It will organize later, however.

James E. Waddle is the chairman now; William B. Dunn, vice chairman; Carson, the secretary; Bower, the fiscal agent; H. H. Pendleton, education commitee chairman, and Mrs. Barbara Garringer, the secretary.

Approximately 170 of the 600 cooperators in the district were at the dinner preceding the election and the address by Floyd E. Heft, of Columbus, chief of the Division of Soil and Water Conservation Districts of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

HEFT DECLARED that human reactions are a part of the total environment, including air and water pollution.

He said that perhaps much of the present unrest among young people is due to the lack of discipline and teaching by the parents.

The Rev. Earl F. Schottke delivered the invocation, and the meeting was conducted by Chairman Waddle.

The 28-voice Humbolt Masonic Glee Club, of Columbus, presented a 45-minute program before the business session.

The 15 flower arrangements provided by the Town and Country Garden Club were given to the guests.

Christian Union Church Plans Rt. 35-N Building

The Church of Christ in Christian Union, which has a mounting parking problem and lack of space to expand the building at 424 Gregg St. for the growing congregation, has taken the first steps to remedy the situation, at least in part.

The Union Township Zoning Commission and Board of Appeals, in a joint session gave approval to the erection of a fellowship hall on U. S. 35 about a mile north of the city.

The Rev. Charles Williams, pastor of the church, showed the preliminary plans to the commission and board with a request for a building permit but was told none was required for a church.

The Rev. Mr. Williams said the church is acquiring about 13 acres, fronting 720 feet on the highway, from Lester Jordan Jr. He said the $26,000 deal is scheduled to be closed next week, adding that "everything is settled and this will be only a formality."

A fellowship hall has long been needed, the pastor said, explaining the present building has no place for wedding receptions, dinners and the like, and has had to hold these meetings elsewhere.

* * *

PRESENT PLANS for the projected fellowship hall call for an L-shaped building with an 81 by 43 foot auditorium or meeting room, a library and reading area, kitchen and other essential facilities.

With an eye to the future, the building is designed so that it could later become a part of a new and larger house of worship; the tract also is large enough to permit construction of a separte church edifice should that alternative be more practical. However, the Rev. Mr. Williams emphasized that "this is merely something to be considered for the future . . . there are no plans now for holding services other than in the church on Gregg Street. Incidentally, he commented that the Gregg Street building has been enlarged considerably within the last few years.

He noted, too, that there will be ample parking area at the projected fellowshiphall — and for the church, should it ever be erected there.

Work on the fellowship hall is scheduled to start next spring with the completion date July 1. The cost is estimated at around $70,000. But with much of the work to be done by members of the congregation, this figure is expected to be reduced appreciably.

Fishing Trip Set For OGOB TOPS

Members of the OGOB TOPS chapter reported a loss of 33 pounds when they met in the McNair Presbyterian Church Thursday evening. Robert Long was announced "king" of the week.

Pledge fines were paid and new pledges were received by members. Richard Leslie, leader, recognized all of the men for the effort put forth during the week to lose weight.

The fishing trip to Rocky Fork Lake Sept. 25 and 26 was discussed and final plans will be made at the next meeting. The food committee was reminded to keep the menu within 1,000 calories.

A contest suggested at the recent leader's meeting by the WCHO chapter was acceped. It is the "To Win You Must Lose" contest, in which "play" money will be used for attendance and loss of weight. The fine for gains is $1 a pound. Individual containers will be kept for members and for the Dec. 4 meeting each is to bring a gift, which will be purchased at auction with play money accumulated.

The group was reminded of the combined meeting with the two other chapters, CHOP TOPS and WCHO at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12. The meeting wil be at Eastside School when the WCHO chapter will be host.

Fleeing Escapee Corralled In Field

A state Highway Patrol helicopter from Columbus, an airplane manned by Fayette County sheriff's deputies and eight Patrol and Sheriff's Department cruisers joined in a search near the Interstate 71-Ohio 38 interchange Thursday noon for an escapee from a Franklin County juvenile detention center.

But it was a civilian in his pickup truck who was credited with discovering the 18-year-old Dayton youth, who had earlier fled officers in a field.

The Patrol said John M. Finfrock, of Dayton, who had been committed to the Buckeye Boys Ranch for auto larceny in Dayton, was spotted near the freeway on Ohio 38, by Patrol Sgt. W. O. Spangler and Patrolman L. D. Merritt at 11:13 a.m.

When the two officers approached the youth to question him about hitchhiking on the freeway, he fled into a field behind Downing's Sunoco service station on the north side of the interchange. When the two officers were unable to locate the fleeing boy, they called for assistance.

* * *

SHERIFF Don Thompson, with three cruisers and five men plus five cruisers from the State Highway Patrol, went to the scene. In addition, Auxiliary Deputy Sheriff Robert Cannon and Chief Deputy Robert McArthur flew over the area in a light aircraft while the Patrol's jet helicopter, based in Columbus, flew low-level search missions.

Frank Downing, operator of the interstate service station near where the boy was hiding, drove his pickup truck into the field at the point where Finfrock was last seen. Sgt. Spangler accompanied him.

Downing's truck was right on target for it caused the youth to leave his hiding place in the tall grass in order to avoid being struck.

Finfrock was lodged in the Fayette County Jail where he is awaiting release to Ohio juvenile authorities. Officers also were investigating the abandonment of a car, possibly stolen, just north of Ohio 38 on Interstate 71.

Good Hope Lions Honor Baseball Teams, Coaches

GOOD HOPE — The football season may be getting underway now, but baseball has not been forgotten by the Lions Club here.

Babe Ruth, Little League and Mosquito League teams and their coaches were special guests at the club's dinner meeting Thursday night in Wayne Hall here.

The coaches and assistants at the meeting were Don Williams, Earl Rea and Jerry Dunn of the Babe Ruth team; Danny Hoppes and Drew Clouse of the Little Leaguers; and Robert Johnson and Junior Russell of the Mosquitos.

Dave Pellior, Miami Trace High School coach, the guest speaker, commended players and coaches for participating in athletics and declared that a "competitive attitude" is what society needs today.

Quoting Shakespeare, he said "the play is the thing' and quoting the late Vince Lombardi, he said "winning is not everything, but wanting to win is." He stressed the desire for perfection, which he said "is attained through your own determination to be No. 1."

He emphasized the need to work on fundamentals and said "keep in mind the three Cs — coordination, concentration and confidence — as the way to achieve perfection."

The program was arranged by Joe Barton and President William Dunn conducted the meeting at which Secretary Howard Barney announced the club has donated $50 to the Miami Trace sound system, $50 to the Fayette County Civil Defense unit to outfit a new van and had purchased a pair of glasses for $26.41 last month.

John Grice was welcomed as a new member, and Past President Robert Newell was presented the Lion ring in appreciation of his efforts on behalf of the club last year.

The club agreed to sell fruit cakes again in October and November to raise money for its sight-saving program.

The name Gotham for New York City comes from Washington Irving in his satirical "Salmagundi Papers" in 1807.

B'burg Resident Injured In Crash

A Bloomingburg man was injured and his car was demolished when it overturned on Ohio 38 near the Fayette County Children's Home at 3:50 a.m. Friday.

Treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital for a laceration of the left hand, head and chest injuries was Curtis Cruse, 31. He was cited by the Sheriff's Department for reckless operation.

Officers said Cruse was driving north when his 1966 model car ran off the right side of the road. It traveled 156 feet in a ditch before hitting an embankment and overturning. Damage was estimated at $800, sheriff's deputies said.

In the only other accident investigated in the city - county area Thursday, damage was estimated at $50 to a car in the Municipal parking lot. Officers said Connie Lee Loukinas, 21, Rt. 6, backed her car and struck the parked 1969 model owned by Harold Maddox, 166 Carolyn Rd. No citation was issued.

'Blaze' Is Missing When Firemen Arrive

A reported car fire was already extinguished and firemen were unable to locate the driver of the vehicle in distress when they arrived on a call Thursday afternoon.

Firemen said they received the call at 5:46 p.m. to the Columbus Avenue - Elm Street intersection where a passenger car had apparently blazed up from a backfiring carburetor. However, a passing trucker had extinguished the flames before firemen arrived and the driver apparently had left.

Union Township Set For Building Boom

Building permits for residential construction with an estimated value of $357,000 were approved at a joint meeting of the Union Township Zoning Commission and Board of Appeals.

The permits included 12 new homes in the Culpepper subdivision, each valued at $17,500, and a single residence property, valued at $35,000 on Ohio 41-N, to Gilmore Homes, Inc.

W. L. Deskins Construction Co. received a permit for construction of two three-unit apartment buildings on U.S. 22-E, each valued at $35,000.

Other permits were issued to Philip Campbell for a $12,000 home on the Waterloo Road; to Ware Construction Co. for a $25,000 home on CCC Highway-E; to Robert Corzatt for a $2,500 addition to his home, Ohio 41-N; and to Mell Wickensimer for a $2,500 addition to his home on Hickory Lane. A permit for a mobile home, valued at $4,000 on U. S. 22-E also was issued.

The report was made by Alfred Lininger, secretary of both the Zoning Commission and Board of Appeals. Joe White is chairman of the commission and Maryon Yeoman of the Board of Appeals.

County Board To Map Plans For Tax Issues

Promotion of the three school tax issues and consideration of an adult basic education program will be the main items on the Fayette County Board of Education agenda Monday night.

Board members will review and plan campaigns for promotion of the 1.3 mill operating levy, the 3.3 mill middle school bond issue and the 2.3 mill vocational education school district levy.

An additional meeting to plan the campaign for the vocational school issue will be held at the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce office at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A review of last year's adult education program will be conducted by the board, and a decision is expected on whether or not to offer the program again this year, according to Superintendent Guy M. Foster.

The board also will consider a request by the Bloomingburg Fire Department to recommend a training program for its members. The school board must recommend the program for the fire department to the Ohio Department of Education.
